Passing of Robert Samuelson

20 October 2026

Zegona Communications plc

It is with great sadness we have to announce that Robert Samuelson, Zegona's Chief Operating Officer, passed away peacefully but very unexpectedly yesterday.

Eamonn O'Hare, Chairman and CEO of Zegona commented, "Robert was my co-founder, a trusted colleague and, above all, a dear friend. I will miss him deeply. Everyone at Zegona and Vodafone Spain joins me in sending our heartfelt condolences to his family. Robert and I started Zegona together ten years ago with nothing but a good idea. He helped shape everything we have built since, bringing dedication, generosity and a willingness to help others grow into a larger, more capable team. His contribution lives on in them and our work at Zegona.

I will always be grateful for his friendship and for everything we achieved together."
